

NIST-CSF ASSESSMENTS POWERED BY IT WEAPONS

Developed by the National Institute of Science and Technology (NIST), the Cyber Security Framework (CSF) provides flexible guidance for evaluating the unique risks that organizations face. Using simplified terms, the assessment helps us align your business practices, security processes and technologies together. Ensuring that your company is utilizing its security budget efficiently and effectively.

STANDARDIZE YOUR ORGANIZATION'S APPROACH TO CYBERSECURITY RISKS

HAVE YOU ASKED THESE QUESTIONS?

- Is my organization doing enough to mitigate IT Risk?
- Is there a way that I can assess our security program and feel confident we are moving in the right direction?
- What are the next steps we should take to secure our organization?
- Are we spending our IT Security budget in the right place?

OUR NIST-CSF ASSESSMENT HELPS YOU . . .

- Gain visibility into the current state of your organization's Cybersecurity Program
- Identify end goals you would aim to achieve through this assessment
- Build a roadmap to achieve your goals

We measure your maturity in each of the categories and subcategories of the NIST-CSF to identify gaps in the program and help your organization improve its security posture.

NIST-CSF ASSESSMENTS POWERED BY IT WEAPONS

HOW WILL IT BENEFIT YOUR ORGANIZATION?

- The entire framework is based on a risk-based approach and uses common language
- Simplifies integrating security requirements and business needs
- When done on a regular cadence, the NIST-CSF provides a means of showing improvement of the security programs over time
- Allows companies to adjust for new technologies and new threats to the environment in a dynamic and effective way
- Ensures that everyone in your organization is on the same page when it comes to cybersecurity risks
